

MS V

DIRT TO GLASS

As a phrase, 'dirt to bottle' may lack the romance of typical 'wine-speak', but it has a compelling purpose to it – to tell the story of a particular wine, and the passage that it has taken from the vine to the bottle.

We hope you enjoy your journey with our wines.

TASTING NOTE

This is a wine that can only be described as a 'win-win'. If you are a purist, then you will see in this the traditions of great Australian Claret, and a blend that we can rightly call our own. If you are new to MSV, or indeed the Barossa, then you are about to be schooled in what the Western Ridge can bring to sub-regional expression. Power and weight for sure, but all delivered with a deft and measured hand.

FLAVOUR MATCH

This is a luxuriant wine, but it is not just about hedonism, it is also about complexity. More important than what you match this wine with - and we think you are surely in the range of robust, red meat - the most important flavour will be that of the wine... So, please make sure you decant this and give it a few hours before serving.
